Carmen:

“Prelude”

“Habanera”
(L'amour est un oiseau rebelle)

“Toreador Song”
(Votre toast, je peux vous le rendre)

BY GEORGES BIZET
About the Music

* Carmen, first produced in 1875, was controversial at the time because the heroine was immoral. It is based on a novel of the same name by Prosper Mérimée.

* The "Prelude," combines three recurrent themes: the entry of the bullfighters from Act 2, Carmen's fate motif. It is heard before the opera begins. "Habanera" is heard in Act 1 as Carmen enters the crowded town square.

* "Toreador Song" is heard in Act 2 as Escamillo brags in front of the people gathered at the Inn.

Background

* Carmen is the 3rd most performed opera in the world. It has been performed 2035 times in 234 cities on 6 continents in the past 4 years alone!

Carmen

by Georges Bizet (1838 - 1875)

Vocabulary

- opera: a story told through music, generally sung throughout.
- arioso: an elaborate melody sung with accompaniment, as in an opera oratorio.
- chorus: a group of persons singing together, sometimes with a soloist or individual singers.

About the Composer

* Georges Bizet was a French composer of the Romantic Period.
* He was born in Paris, France and entered the Paris Conservatory of Music when he was nine years old.
* He later studied in Rome for three years after winning a composition contest.
* He wrote his only symphony at 17, and later composed music for operas and theater.
* He died of a heart attack at just 36 years of age and never knew how popular Carmen would become.
Acerca de la Ópera

Carmen fue producida por primera vez en 1875, en esa época fue considerada muy controversial, debido a que la heroína era una inmoral.

Esta basada en una novela que lleva el mismo nombre de Prosper Mérimée.

“El Preludio” combina tres temas recurrentes: 4to acto, la entrada de los toreros; 2do acto, el estribillo de “La canción del Toreador”; y Mont (“tema”). El destino de Carmen. Esto se escucha antes de que comience la ópera.

“Habanera” se escucha en el 1er Acto, cuando Carmen entra en la concurrida plaza del pueblo. “La canción del Toreador” se escucha en el 2do Acto cuando Escamillo se jacta ante la gente reunida en la posada.

Vocabulario

- ópera es una historia contada a través de la música, generalmente cantada para ser cantada con acompañamiento.
- aria es una melodía elaborada para ser cantada por un solista de una forma melódica y dramática.
- coro es un grupo de personas que cantan juntas, cantan piezas córicas o cantan piezas coralles juntos a un solista o cantantes individuales.

Condensed Synopsis

The Story of Carmen

Once there was a beautiful young gypsy woman named Carmen. She was quite the flirt. She worked in a factory in Seville, Spain. On her break one day outside the factory, she started to flirt with one of the soldiers guarding the building, Don José. She decided to make him fall in love with her and threw a flower to him. He became enchanted with the beautiful gypsy woman. However, Don José was engaged to be married to another woman.

A fight broke out between Carmen and another worker. Carmen was arrested and Don José was told to take her to jail. Instead, he let her escape. When this was discovered, Don José himself was put in jail. Don José left the army to be with Carmen, but she soon got tired of him.

Later, Carmen was seen at an Inn with her friends. Soldiers and the bullfighter, Escamillo, all tried to impress Carmen. She took up with Escamillo, the dashing bullfighter who she thought was much more glamorous than Don José. Don José was desperately unhappy and tried to persuade Carmen to come back to him but she refused. Don José and the men challenged one another for Carmen’s attention at the Inn, and then at the gypsy camp later that evening. Escamillo invited them all to the bullfight the next day. Don José’s fiancé convinced him to come home by telling him his mother was sick and dying.

At the bullfight the next day, Carmen accompanied Escamillo. There was a joyous, exuberant parade of the bullfighters into the arena. Don José got very jealous and waited for her outside. He gave her one last chance to come back to him, but she only laughed at him. Don José told Carmen that if he couldn’t have her, no one would. He stabbed and killed Carmen. Carmen died, while inside the arena the crowd cheered as Escamillo won the bullfight.
Carmen Synopsis

ACT I: In Seville by a cigarette factory, soldiers comment on the townspeople. Among them is Micaëla, a peasant girl, who asks for a corporal named Don José. Moralès, another corporal, tells her he will return with the changing of the guard. The relief guard, headed by Lieutenant Zuniga, soon arrives, and José learns from Moralès that Micaëla has been looking for him. When the factory bell rings, the men of Seville gather to watch the female workers—especially their favorite, the Gypsy Carmen. She tells her admirers that love is free and obeys no rules. Only one man pays no attention to her: Don José. Carmen throws a flower at him, and the girls go back to work. José picks up the flower and hides it when Micaëla returns. She brings a letter from José’s mother, who lives in a village in the countryside. As he begins to read the letter, Micaëla leaves. José is about to throw away the flower when a fight erupts inside the factory between Carmen and another girl. Zuniga sends José to retrieve the Gypsy. Carmen refuses to answer Zuniga’s questions, and José is ordered to take her to prison. Left alone with him, she entices José with suggestions of a rendezvous at Lillas Pastia’s tavern. Mesmerized, he agrees to let her get away. As they leave for prison, Carmen escapes. Don José is arrested.

ACT II: Carmen and her friends Frasquita and Mercédès entertain the guests at the tavern. Zuniga tells Carmen that José has just been released. The bullfighter Escamillo enters, boasting about the pleasures of his profession, and flirts with Carmen, who tells him that she is involved with someone else. After the tavern guests have left with Escamillo, the smugglers Dancaïre and Remendado explain their latest scheme to the women. Frasquita and Mercédès are willing to help, but Carmen refuses because she is in love. The smugglers withdraw as José approaches. Carmen arouses his jealousy by telling him how she danced for Zuniga. She dances for him now, but when a bugle call is heard he says he must return to the barracks. Carmen mocks him. To prove his love, José shows her the flower she threw at him and confesses how its scent made him not lose hope during the weeks in prison. She is unimpressed: if he really loved her, he would desert the army and join her in a life of freedom in the mountains. José refuses, and Carmen tells him to leave. Zuniga bursts in, and in a jealous rage José fights him. The smugglers return and disarm Zuniga. José now has no choice but to join them.

ACT III: Carmen and José quarrel in the smugglers’ mountain hideaway. She admits that her love is fading and advises him to return to live with his mother. When Frasquita and Mercédès turn the cards to tell their fortunes, they foresee love and riches for themselves, but Carmen’s cards spell death—for her and for José. Micaëla appears, frightened by the mountains and afraid to meet the woman who has turned José into a criminal. She hides when a shot rings out. José has fired at an intruder, who turns out to be Escamillo. He tells José that he has come to find Carmen, and the two men fight. The smugglers separate them, and Escamillo invites everyone, Carmen in particular, to his next bullfight. When he has left, Micaëla emerges and begs José to return home. He agrees when he learns that his mother is dying, but before he leaves he warns Carmen that they will meet again.

ACT IV: Back in Seville, the crowd cheers the bullfighters on their way to the arena. Carmen arrives on Escamillo’s arm, and Frasquita and Mercédès warn her that José is nearby. Unafraid, she waits outside the entrance as the crowds enter the arena. José appears and begs Carmen to forget the past and start a new life with him. She calmly tells him that their affair is over: she was born free and free she will die. The crowd is heard cheering Escamillo. José keeps trying to win Carmen back. She takes off his ring and throws it at his feet before heading for the arena. José stabs her to death.
CARMEN: PRELUDE BY BIZET (1838-1875)
SETTING THE STAGE

Introduce the concept of Romantic Period Opera.

- An opera is a story told through music, generally sung throughout. The Romantic Period operas are characterized by themes of individualism and self-expression. This new emphasis on emotional revelation found its voice in more expressive harmony, techniques such as leitmotif, and a closer approach to equality between vocal and instrumental elements.

Introduce the concept of Prelude.

- Discuss the purpose of a Prelude, or Overture for an opera, for example: sets the mood for the action on stage, gives the singers time to get into place on stage, previews musical themes that will be heard later.
- Have the students describe what the audience should do while the orchestra plays the “Prelude” or Overture for the opera.

Tell students they will hear the “Prelude” for the opera Carmen.

TEACHING SUGGESTIONS

1) Have students:
   - Read or listen to background information on Bizet (bee-ZAY) (1835 - 1875) and this selection.
   - Read or listen to the “Story of Carmen” Synopsis.
   - Define Concepts/Vocabulary for this lesson.

2) Review the listening map.
   - Identify the repeating and contrasting sections, ABACA. Identify this order of sections as rondo form.
   - Notice the cymbals that will be heard playing accents in many places.
   - Notice the stars that will represent two beats each. The double concentric stars indicate where each section begins.

3) Listen to, Sing and/or Play the Themes, found in the NOTATED THEMES section of the lesson.

4) Listen to the selection and follow the map.

5) Visit http://tinyurl.com/Carmenprelude to hear the Orchestra of The Royal Opera House, conducted by Zubin Mehta, perform this selection. Visit http://tinyurl.com/6handsprelude to hear a 6 hand piano version of this selection. The PPT includes links to these YouTube videos that we do not own, hosted on SafeShare which is advertisement free.

6) Use the Listening Map as a tapping map for individual students to tap along as the selection is heard, demonstrating steady beat. Students can also use the Activity Page to take turns being in the “Cymbal Player Group” and perform the selected rhythm of the cymbal part along with the A section of this selection. Students could identify rondo form by changing participation as a “tapping map group” person or “cymbal player group” person.
LESSON

Carmen: “Habanera”
(L'amour est un oiseau rebelle) by Georges Bizet

SETTING THE STAGE

Introduce the concept of aria.

- Discuss the characteristics of an aria, for example: use of melismas, repetition and sequences, sung with orchestral accompaniment for a solo voice, expresses feelings or emotions, a chance to show off the singer's virtuosity.

- Discuss the difference between arias and recitative sections of an opera, for example: recitative (from a word meaning: “to recite” i.e. “to tell”) was sung quickly, almost as if it were being spoken, singer is accompanied just by a few supporting chords, the story is being told in the recitative.

Tell students they will hear the aria “Habanera” from the opera Carmen.

TEACHING SUGGESTIONS

1) Have students:
   - Read or listen to background information on Bizet (bee-ZAY) (1835 - 1875) and this selection.
   - Read or listen to the “Story of Carmen” Synopsis. Emphasize that “Habanera” is heard in the middle of Act 1: When the factory bell rings, the men of Seville gather to watch the female workers—especially their favorite, the Gypsy Carmen. She sings “Habanera” to tell her admirers that love is free and obeys no rules.
   - Define Concepts/Vocabulary for this lesson.

2) Review the listening map.
   - Identify the solo and chorus sections of this selection.
   - Find the pictures of the tarot cards that represent the four sections of this selection. Tell students that Carmen and her friends use tarot cards to tell their fortunes in Act 3: When Frasquita and Mercédès turn the cards to tell their fortunes, they foresee love and riches for themselves, but Carmen’s cards spell death—for her and for Don José.
   - Notice the “Habanera” Rhythm pattern that will be heard throughout this selection and clap/read together.
   - Notice the skyline of Seville, Spain at the bottom of the page.
   - Notice the box in the upper right corner that will display both the French text and English translation as this selection is heard.

3) Listen to, Sing and/or Play the Themes, found in the NOTATED THEMES section of the lesson. Explain and demonstrate that this melody is built on a descending chromatic scale.

4) Listen to the selection and follow the map.

5) Visit http://tinyurl.com/GravesHabanera to hear Denyce Graves perform this selection. Visit http://tinyurl.com/RemixHabanera to see the Dance Academy remix version. The PPT includes links to these YouTube videos that we do not own, hosted on SafeShare which is advertisement free.

6) Use the Activity Page to define aria and chorus as well as label the pitches in the chromatic scale. Students could perform by singing or on a selected instrument.

Et songe bien, oui, songe en combattant
LESSON

Carmen: “Toreador Song”
(Votre toast, je peux vous le rendre) by Georges Bizet

SETTING THE STAGE

Introduce the concept of chorus.

- Discuss the characteristics of a chorus, for example: a group of persons singing together, singing choral parts in connection with soloists or individual singers.
- Discuss the difference between opera chorus and the term chorus, for example: a chorus in a song means the part of the song that reoccurs at intervals following each verse and can also be called the refrain.

Tell students they will hear the baritone solo singer and a chorus in “Toreador Song” from the opera Carmen.

TEACHING SUGGESTIONS

1) Have students:
   - Read or listen to background information on Bizet (bee-ZAY) (1835 - 1875) and this selection.
   - Read or listen to the “Story of Carmen” Synopsis. Emphasize that “Toreador Song” will be heard in Act 2: The bullfighter Escamillo enters, boasting about the pleasures of his profession, and flirts with Carmen.
   - Define Concepts/Vocabulary for this lesson.

2) Review the listening map.
   - Identify the solo sections and chorus sections of the selection.
   - Notice the box in the center where the French text of the chorus will be displayed as it is heard.
   - Find the rhythm pattern in the top boxes and clap/read together.
   - Notice the sections labeled Introduction and Coda.
   - Notice the pictures of Escamillo, Carmen and Carmen’s friend Mercédès.

3) Listen to, Sing and/or Play the Themes, found in the NOTATED THEMES section of the lesson.

4) Listen to the selection and follow the map. Sing the chorus section along with the map in French or by using the singable English translation found on the Activity Page.

5) Visit http://tinyurl.com/METToreador to hear Samuel Ramey at the MET perform this selection. Visit http://tinyurl.com/MetalToreador to hear a Metal Guitar version. The PPT includes links to these YouTube videos that we do not own, hosted on SafeShare which is advertisement free.

6) Use the Activity Page to have students sing the chorus section in English. For an extra challenge, share the original lyrics with the students and invite them to sing the chorus section in French.

SEL (Social-Emotional Learning) Connection:

The story of Carmen has been told in many ways across time periods, and students may know of girls and boys in their class, school, or community who are involved in a situation where one person treats another disrespectfully or without caring, and then suffers serious consequences. If you have a social/emotional or character building curriculum point out the universal issue in the story, and remind students that it is a sign of good character to treat others with respect and caring, even when it is difficult to do so.
Lesson

Carmen: “Prelude”, “Habanera”, “Toreador Song” by Georges Bizet

Vocabulary/Definitions

aria an elaborate melody sung with accompaniment, as in an opera or oratorio baritone a medium-low male singing voice (between bass and tenor) chorus a group of singers who perform together, usually singing in parts (harmony) chromatic scale a scale progressing entirely by half steps CODA a special ending section, often marked with this sign introduction an opening section of a piece of music that comes before the main body of the piece opera a story told through music, generally sung throughout prelude an overture or orchestral piece at the beginning of an opera or other extended composition rhythm combinations of longer and shorter sounds and silences Romantic Period an era of Western classical music that began in the late 18th or early 19th century. It is related to Romanticism, the European artistic and literary movement that arose in the second half of the 18th century. In the Romantic period, music became more expressive and emotional.
rondo form a musical form in which a main (opening) theme returns between contrasting themes, for example, ABACA soprano a higher treble singing voice

SEL (Social-Emotional Learning) Connection:

Bullfighting has a 4,000-year-old tradition in Spain. However, it has been banned in some areas of Spain in recent years. Those who are pro-bullfighting celebrate it as a national art form deep rooted in Spanish history, and a sign of bravery and manhood. Those who are anti-bullfighting think it is a barbaric practice, with odds heavily stacked against the animals, which suffer torment and most often death. There are two very different points of view to this issue. Older students might benefit from a discussion of the term “bullying,” and whether the term might be related to bullfighting.

JUST FOR FUN: Visit http://tinyurl.com/pingponghabanera to hear the MozART Group perform the Hilarious Ping Pong version of this piece. Listen for the descending chromatic scale in the melody.

FUN FACT: Contradanza (also called habanera) is the Spanish and Spanish-American version of the contradanse, which was an internationally popular style of music and dance in the 18th century, derived from the English country dance and adopted at the court of France. The habanera rhythm’s time signature is \( \frac{2}{4} \). An accented upbeat in the middle of the measure lends power to the habanera rhythm, especially when it is used as a bass ostinato in contradanzas such as “Habanera.”

Audience Etiquette Guide

Attending the Opera

Unlike the actors on your television, performers on the stage are aware of their audience and want very much to communicate their art to you. By the time you arrive for a scheduled performance, many people (composers, singers, musicians, technicians, costume, set and lighting designers, etc.) have worked very hard to bring you their best efforts. In order to show respect for those efforts, every audience member must give the performance their full attention and avoid any behavior that interferes with the performance. Here are expected and appropriate behaviors to remember when you are attending the opera.

1) Turn off your cell phone and anything else you have that might beep, ring, buzz or make any sort of noise during the performance.

2) Walk when you are inside the performance hall - both in the lobby and the seating area.

3) Recordings of any kind are not allowed during the performance.

4) Be attentive during the performance. Keep your eyes on the stage and refrain from making noise of any kind.

5) Applause is welcome! Enjoy the performance and respond to what you see. Unlike TV or film, every live performance is unique: only you and the performers will share the experience you have in the theater. Show appreciation for the performers by applauding at the following times:
   ♦ After the orchestra finishes playing the overture (or prelude).
   ♦ At the end of each Act.
   ♦ After an aria or big ensemble selection (duet, trio, quartet, chorus number)
